In the upper left corner, the meaning of the dove is peace. As a leader, I need to encourage peace in the school. Everybody is hand in hand together in the picture, meaning cooperation is important. In the upper right corner of the picture, a girl is holding a scale which says "fair" on the surface. On the left of the girl, I have four hands of different colors. This shows that as a leader, I should be fair to everyone. I need to make a lot of friends and establish trust with them. The third quality of a good leader is to model righteousness in the school. I believe that the duty of students is to study hard and not cheat on tests or homework. Finally, as a leader I can make good decisions on my own and if I think my decision is right, I will not be in-
